Die Brünlein die da fliessen à 3

Od planetov in zvezd, ki se vrtinčijo po nebesnem svodu, do najnižjih bitij na zemlji – gibanje in spremembe so v nas in povsod okoli nas: tekoči potok ali vino, ki lije iz steklenice, utripajoči plameni ognja, dan, ki prehaja v noč, tedni, ki postajajo meseci, postajajo leta, mladost, ki se prevesi v starost. Vse teče – panta rheil! Po tem starodavnem izrazu, ki je prestal preizkušnje časa, se naš program posveča temam vsega, kar teče in se spreminja – tako v nas kot v svetu okoli nas. Na prstih se sprehaja skozi moralizatorske ode o nestalnosti Claudio Le Jeunea, teče skozi Isaakovo Die Brünlein, die da fließen in priljubljeno pivsko melodijo Quant je bois du vin claret tout tourne, ter se izgublja v zamišljenih pesmih o minevanju časa pri Dowlandu in Arcadelu. Besedila prepletajo verze o vodi in vinu, treznosti in pijanosti, sreči in melanoliji, življenju in smrti – vse v tekočem utripu in ritmu, v melodiji in harmoniji glasbe – zvenečem utelešenju panta rheii.

From the planets and stars whirling about the heavens to the lowliest of creatures on earth, motion and change are in us and all about us: a flowing stream or wine from a bottle, flickering flames of a fire, day turning to night, weeks becoming months becoming years, youth and old age. Everything flows: “panta rhei”! Following this ancient expression that has withstood the tests of time, our programme traverses themes of all that flows and changes, both within us and in the world around us. It tiptoes through moralizing odes about inconstance by Claude le Jeune, flows through Isaac’s “Die Brünlein die da fließen” and the popular drinking tune “Quant je bois du vin claret tout tourne,” and gets lost in wistful songs about the passage of time by Dowland and Arcadelt. The texts spin verses about water and wine, sobriety and drunkenness, happiness and melancholy, and life and death, all to the flowing pulse and rhythm, melody and harmony of music—a sounding embodiment of “panta rhei”.

Sporočilo umetnikov obiskovalcem:

Vse teče, vse je v pretoku. Ta starodavni aforizem povzema bistvo kozmosa in vsega, kar je v njem. Gibanje in sprememba sta v nas – od najpreprostejših vsakdanjih poti do življenjskega osebnega razvoja – in vsepovsod okoli nas: v naši neposredni okolini, v naravi in v prostranem, vedno širšem vesolju. Glasba zrcali ta neskončni tok: njen utrip je krožni tek časa, nad katerim se ritmi, melodije in harmonije neprestano prepletajo v gibanju. Kot živo utelešenje misli panta rheij je glasba popolno sredstvo za raziskovanje te brezčasne ideje, ki nam je še danes tako blizu.

Naše umetniško poslanstvo:

Capella Helvetica, katere jedro sestavljajo renesančna pihala, predstavlja glasbo iz 15., 16. in 17. stoletja ter jo oživilja za občinstvo našega časa. Z igranjem na zveste kopije izvirnih instrumentov in branjem iz zgodovinskih zapisov se ansambel do repertoarja približa na historično informiran način – ne le zato, da bi razumeli ljudi in zgodbe preteklosti, temveč da bi jih posredovali tako, da nagovorijo sedanjost. Vsak koncert je več kot zgolj izvedba: je dialog, ki zabava, pouči, prevzame in poslušalca popelje na potovanje v preteklost, osvetljeno z umetniško močjo in spoznanji sedanjega trenutka.

Artists' message to visitors:

Everything flows; all is in flux. This ancient aphorism captures the essence of the cosmos and everything within it. Movement and change are in us – from the simplest daily routines to a lifetime of personal growth – and all around us: in our immediate surroundings, in the wild, and in the vast, ever-expanding universe. Music mirrors this endless flow: its pulse is the cyclical passing of time, over which rhythms, melodies, and harmonies dance in constant motion. As the living embodiment of panta rheij, music offers a perfect medium to explore this timeless idea, still so relevant today.

Our artistic mission:

Capella Helvetica, with its core of Renaissance wind instruments, presents music from the 15th to the 17th centuries, bringing it vividly to life for today's audiences. Playing on faithful copies of original instruments and reading from historical notation, the ensemble approaches the repertoire in a historically informed way – not only to understand the people and stories of the past, but to share them in a way that speaks to the present. More than a performance, each concert becomes a dialogue: to entertain, to inform, to captivate, and to carry the listener on a journey into the past, illuminated by the artistry and insight of the present.

Capella Helvetica združuje raziskovanje in na virih temelječe zgodovinsko izvajanje stare glasbe z zabavnim in privlačnim ustvarjanjem glasbe za današnje raznoliko občinstvo. Prizadeva si narediti glasbo 15., 16. in 17. stoletja dostopno širši publiki in z njo stopiti v dialog. Naš zgodovinski pihalni ansambel nastopa na kornetih, pozavnah, dulcijanih, kljunastih flavtah in njihovih še redkejših spremlevalcih, kot so drsna trobenta, douçaine ali enoročna piščal. Z ustvarjalnimi koncertnimi formati, ki pogosto vključujejo amaterje ali otroke, ansambel ustvarja sinergije, ki podirajo zidove med klasičnim glasbenikom in poslušalcem. V letih 2023 in 2024 smo izvedli programe, ki se osredotočajo na glasbo Michaela Praetoriusa, Orlando di Lassa in italijanskih nun, ter ustvarjamо standardni repertoar za ansambel, ki se osredotoča na staro instrumentalno glasbo in najbolj priljubljene umetniške pesmi renesanse. V letu 2025 se ansambel veseli prvega posnetka zgoščenke.

... Katoliška cerkev Buchs AG je oživel a z glasbo, plesom in petjem. Profesionalni baselski ansambel, ki je bil na odru s historičnimi pihali, je očaral občinstvo in prikazal, kako so plemiči plesali pred 500 leti. ... veličastno je otrokom in občinstvu odkril nov svet basse dancea. Posebej impresivni so bili glasni zvoki pomerja (stara oboa), dulcijana (stari fagot), renesančne trobente in korneta (vrsta lesene trobente z luknjami za prste). (Iris Aleit, Buchser Bote, 19. junij 2024)

... Capella Helvetica je skupaj s Singstimme Basel Land poskrbela, da je Pavlova kulturna cerkev zazvenela. [...] Pet glasbenikov iz petih držav se je zbralo v Baslu na Schola Cantorum, da bi oživili zaprašeno renesančno glasbo in to je tisto, kar počnejo. Številni nenavadni zvoki in pevski glasovi so prinesli impresiven rezultat, ki se mu je na koncu lahko pridružilo tudi občinstvo. Večer, ki je bil čaroben in resnično v pričakovanju božiča. (Mélanie Honegger, Basler Zeitung, 4. december 2023)

Capella Helvetica combines the research and source-based historical performance of Early Music with entertaining and engaging music-making for today's diverse audience. It aims to make music of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries accessible to a broad audience and enter into dialogue with it. Our historical wind ensemble performs on cornettos, trombones, dulcians, recorders, and their even rarer comrades such as slide trumpets, douçaines, or pipe and tabor. With creative concert formats, often integrating amateurs or children, the ensemble is creating synergies that break down the walls between the classical musician and listener. In 2023 and 2024 we performed programs focusing on music by Michael Praetorius, Orlando di Lasso, and Italian nuns, as well as creating a standard repertoire for the ensemble that focuses on early instrumental music and the most popular art songs of the Renaissance. In 2025 the ensemble is looking forward to record their first CD recording.

... The Catholic Church of Buchs AG was brought to life with music, dance, and song. The professional Basel-based ensemble, performing on historical wind instruments, enchanted the audience and showed them how nobles danced as far back as 500 years ago. Majestic music-making revealed to both children and adults a new world of the Basse Danse. Particularly impressive were the powerful sounds of the pommer (an early oboe), dulcian (an early bassoon), a Renaissance trumpet, and the cornett (a wooden trumpet-like instrument with finger holes). (Iris Aleit, Buchser Bote, 19 June 2024)

... Capella Helvetica, together with the Singstimmen Basel Land, filled the Paulus Culture Church with sound. The five musicians from five different countries first met in Basel at the Schola Cantorum to breathe new life into dusty Renaissance music – and that is exactly what they do. The many unusual timbres combined with the Singstimmen produced an impressive result, culminating in the audience joining in for the finale. An evening that enchanted and truly awakened the anticipation of Christmas. (Mélanie Honegger, Basler Zeitung, 4 December 2023)
